THE COMMEMORATION OF ALL THE FAITHFUL DEPARTED

"I will not reject anyone who comes to me." Today, as we remember the faithful departed, we can rejoice in these words from Jesus. He promises that he will welcome those who come to him. He is so anxious to embrace us! As the catechism puts it, "All who die in God's grace and friendship, but still imperfectly purified, are indeed assured of their eternal salvation" (CCC §1030).

Jesus' whole message here is important. Eternal salvation is available to all, but it does involve a level of participation on our part. "Everyone who sees the Son and believes in him may have eternal life," Jesus says in today's Gospel. When it's authentic, of course, this belief is more than mere lip service. Understanding that Jesus is our savior and our God is one thing. Coming to him is another; it takes belief to the next level of personal commitment. This involves choices, decisions, and actions. Coming to Jesus means being near him-through a spiritual life that involves a real relationship with him-as well as being focused on him by charting our life's course in the light of faith. This is what we strive to do during the ups and downs of this life.

But it isn't always easy. Even as faithful Christians we often fall short of perfect cooperation with God. But this is not cause for despair! Today we remember that even Christians who die still "imperfectly purified" can ultimately share the blessing of heaven. We pray for these souls in purgatory to come closer and closer to perfect union with the Lord. And meanwhile, we strive to increase our own union with Christ in the hopes of sharing eternity with him and with the whole communion of saints, including our loved ones who have gone before us in faith.

LECTORS

Yo lo resucitaré el último día

Somos ciudadanos del cielo, la tierra no es nuestra morada permanente; somos invitados a una vida mucho más plena aunque no lo entendamos del todo. Cuando la muerte nos toca de cerca nos llena de dolor y nos infunde miedo cuando pensamos en ella. La esperanza debe estar puesta en Cristo, que nos prometió la vida eterna. "Toda el que vea al Hijo y crea en él, tenga vida eterna y yo lo resucite en el ultimo día".

La celebración de este domingo debe de ayudar a renovar el camino bautismal de todos los que por el bautismo nos incorporamos a Cristo que es vida. ¿Lo entendemos así? ¿Qué es más importante para nosotros: llevar flores y velas al cementerio, o asistir a la Eucaristía y compartir el banquete de esperanza comulgando el cuerpo y la sangre del Señor? La comunidad de fieles reunida ora por los difuntos de una manera gratuita, porque forma parte de su comunión y de su misión. Por otra parte, hoy, celebramos el cómo conservar el recuerdo de nuestros difuntos en el plano familiar y compartir sus historias es importante, especialmente si sus recuerdos nos encaminan a vivir el Evangelio y hacia el seguimiento de Jesús. Nuestro deber es orar y recordar con gratitud los ejemplos que nos han dejado. ¿Lo haremos, solamente hoy o durante todo el mes de noviembre?
