26TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

I would like to think that most people in the world would help someone who was suffering if they had the chance. I guess my optimism starts to take a hit when I consider that in some cases the cost will be higher for that help than in others. To help someone with a meal or transport someone to a doctor is one thing. To offer oneself completely, all of one's money or time, is quite another.

Of course, there have been famous examples of this type of giving. The recently canonized St. Teresa of Kolkata comes to mind. But I personally know of others who have given everything for another. Friends who have adopted an older child, gone to live as missionaries in a far off land, or added on to their house in order to care for an aging parent are all examples to me of those who answer the call without counting the cost.

I am not concerned with not being able to follow the examples of these stewardship heroes. What concerns me is becoming too comfortable and not noticing the Lazarus that may be in my midst. Living a life of Everyday Stewardship means not only answering the call when it is obvious and when we have the chance to truly do something amazing, but also when it is less obvious and the need not as easily noticeable. Who doesn't want to help the starving child they see on a late night infomercial? But the sad reality is that sometimes there are children lying at our proverbial door that fail to gain our attention.

So, I pray to see with the eyes of Jesus. I ask that I may be ever more mindful of those in need who cross my path. I pray to see Jesus in them. I pray to be Jesus to them. I pray that I may answer the call.

27º DOMINGO DEL TIEMPO ORDINARIO

Me gustaría creer que la mayoría de las personas del mundo ayudarían a alguien sufriendo si ellos tuvieran la oportunidad. El optimismo empieza a disminuir cuando considero que el precio será más alto en unas instancias que en otras. Es una cosa ayudar a alguien con la comida o llevar a alguien al doctor, pero ofrecerte completamente --todo tu dinero o tiempo-- es algo muy diferente.

Por supuesto, siempre han existido ejemplos famosos de este tipo de ofrecimiento. La santa recién canonizada, Teresa de Calcuta, es uno de ellos. Pero yo sé personalmente de otros que han dado todo a los demás. Tengo amigos que han adoptado a un niño mayor; que se han ido para vivir como misioneros en sitios distantes; que han renovado sus casas para cuidar a sus padres envejecidos. Para mí, todos son ejemplos de personas que han contestado al llamado sin considerar el precio.

No estoy preocupado con no ser capaz de seguir esos ejemplos de los héroes de la corresponsabilidad. Lo que me preocupa es hacerme demasiado cómodo y no darme cuenta del Lázaro que vive cerca de mí. Vivir una vida de corresponsabilidad diaria implica que contestamos los llamados menos obvios, cuando la necesidad no es tan evidente, y no solamente contestamos los llamados obvios que permiten que hagamos algo maravilloso. Por supuesto queremos ayudar a los niños hambreados que vemos por la noche en los infomerciales en la tele. Pero la realidad lamentable es que muchas veces hay niños en nuestras puertas proverbiales que nos necesitan también.

AÑO DE LA MISERICORDIA

Durante este año jubilar de la misericordia, debemos esforzarnos en trabajar juntos para ayudarnos no sólo a nosotros mismos sino también a otros a reconciliarse con Cristo. Esto puede hacerse solo con la ayuda del Espiritu Santo...y que mejor manera que a través de los Sacramentos de la iglesia. Durante este año de Jubileo, celebremos los Sacramentos y mostremos a otros la alegría de vivir nuestra fe como el visible "Sacramento de Cristo".

*Si hoy escuchan la voz de Dios no endurezcan sus corazones.
Escucha la voz de Dios. ¿Estas siendo llamado/a al sacerdocio o vida religiosa?
